

He pushes his way past the staff and runs in the direction Linda was heading five minutes ago. By this time, security has been made aware of his reluctance to pay his bill and is now on the lookout for him.

Finally, he is found and taken back to the restaurant and made to pay up; with no apology, he walks out on the search for Linda Winters.

An hour later, still no sign of Linda; tired of looking, he decides to give up. He takes a slow walk back to an empty car.

In the meanwhile, Linda was being cared for by Security.

While Dean is sitting in the car, hoping to find the love of his life, looking at the time on his watch, it's getting late; he sees a police patrol car pull up and park in the loading zone.

He now knows that she has reported the kidnapping to Security.

Two officers are seen entering Cascades Lifestyle Centre. Sergeant Frank Lowe and Lieutenant Danny Kruger. And are greeted by security.

On reaching the office, they are greeted by Linda Winters; she describes how she was abducted from her car, placed in Dean's car, and forced to come to Pietermaritzburg.

We will make sure you are safe and place you in the Stay Easy near Midlands Mall.

Dean leaves the parking lot at Cascades Life Style and goes to Sheraton to settle himself in for the night, only to find that the flat has been rented out to someone else.

“ I was under the impression that we had agreed to me renting the flat, and now I find it was given to another person; why? Asks Dean

“ I told you I had another prospective tenant looking to rent. I gave you ten days to pay the 5500 rands deposit, effectively one month of rent, less lights and water, and rates. You ignored my calls. You can't expect others to wait on you all the time.”Said, James “Really, so where am I to stay now as I was relying on your good friendship?” Said Dean. “At the Easy Stay near midlands Mall.” Replied James. Dean cuts the call and turns his car around in the driveway of Sheraton; he makes his way to chase valley road and to Midlands Mall.

He finds the entrance to the parking lot and gets directions from the guard at the gate.

He takes the small bag out of the back of the car and walks into the reception; as he reaches the counter, a young lady asks, " Can I help you, sir.”

She had blond hair and red clips to hold her hair out of her eyes. She was dressed in a blue dress with her name tag just above her left breast. On the right were the words Easy Stay.

“Can I have a single room, please?” Asks Dean

“Please fill in the form for me; your first name and surname, and car registration number. Have you got your ID Book? I need a positive ID; if not, your driver's license will do. If you plan on using our undercover parking, the deposit is 550 Rand.”

“ Do you take the card as a form of payment.? ” Asks, Dean

“yes, we do take both Visa and Mastercard.”

Dean hands over his credit card. “How long will you be staying here for, Mr Lewis?” So asked the clerk behind the counter.

“ Not sure at this time; the flat I was going to rent was given to another person as I did not pay the deposit in time.” Replies Dean Lewis.

“Your room number is 711 A; take the elevator to the second floor; as you come out, turn right. Your room is the third door down the passage from the elevator.” Remarks the clerk behind the counter.

“Sorry, sir, your card transaction has failed. Can we try again?” Said the clerk.

Dean hands over another card. The clerk behind the counter tries again. “You need to contact the bank both your cards are not working. Let me attend to the woman behind you and her family while you call the Bank.” So said the clerk in a firm voice.

“That’s acceptable replies,” Dean and takes a seat in the waiting area just in front of the counter. Looks up the number of the Bank’s customer services line. And proceeded to dial 0860 123 6410

" Sorry, Mr Lewis, all your cards are blocked for now." So said the agent on the line.

"What's the reason for my cards being blocked?" Asked Dean in a firm voice.

"you have been blacklisted after the transaction at CoffeeBerry in Pietermaritzburg. I have no other information than what is on your banking profile. That transaction was the last payment to be honoured by the bank.". Replies the agent firmly.

"So all my cards have been blocked. Please, I need to pay the deposit for the underground parking." Replies Dean.

"Sorry, this call ends now, sir; I am not authorised to reactivate any of your cards for now." She Cuts the call.
